

Keynote Speakers

Chris Heuertz

Christopher Heuertz is the International Executive Director of the Word Made Flesh community. An activist, author, visionary and public speaker, Chris has traveled with his wife, Phileena, through nearly 70 countries, working with the most vulnerable of the world's poor.

As a student Chris travelled to Kolkata, India, and volunteered with Mother Teresa and the Missionaries of Charity. It was a life-changing experience, and Chris knew he wanted his life to count for those who are poor.

He returned to India after living a semester in Israel and after graduating from Asbury College in Wilmore, Kentucky. From 1994 to 1996, Chris worked to help establish the first Word Made Flesh children's homes in Chennai, India. These homes care for children with AIDS, Hansen's disease (leprosy) and special needs. Chris also established a board of directors in Chennai, as well as a constitution for the operation of the Word Made Flesh Chennai ministry. Word Made Flesh has now established communities in Asia, Latin America, Europe and Africa.

As he comes to know God's heart, Chris stands as a prophetic voice, calling the church to act. In the face of a world marked by appalling disparity, Chris believes in provoking imaginations toward a revolution of peace, justice, and simplicity

In his first book, Simple Spirituality, Learning to See God in a Broken World, Chris shares compelling stories from his life and ministry. (Read an excerpt from his book on Page 42)

Mohan Maharaj

Mohan Maharaj was born into a prominent East Indian family in Trinidad and reared in the ancient traditions of Hinduism. As a young man he heard the Gospel of Jesus Christ and made the costly decision to follow Him. According to Hindu custom, when a child rejects the gods of his father, his clothes are burned, his family conducts a funeral and forever denies his existence.

Although forsaken by his family, Mohan knew that God had called him into Christian service. Through the leading of the Lord, Mohan eventually arrived in Edmonton where he attended Bible College and later completed a B.A. degree in psychology and counseling. Mohan became a very successful businessman and has received awards for his superior sales achievements.

As an ordained minister of the Gospel, Mohan has conducted evangelistic crusades in over 40 countries. His compelling testimony has been used to bring thousands to know Christ as their Savior. Mohan is president of Aspire Group International Realty, real-estate and management specialists.

Terry Law

Terry Law was born and raised on the Canadian prairies. As founder and president of World Compassion Terry Law Ministries, he is known internationally for his anointed evangelistic and teaching ministry. He has known God's call on his life from the age of fourteen. In 1971, as Terry was praying during a service, God spoke to him and said, "I am going to send you to minister among the closed countries of the world. You will do things there that most men will believe impossible. If you trust Me and are obedient, I will protect you."

From KGB interrogations and the tragic death of his wife, to the war-torn countries of Afghanistan and Iraq, God has been faithful to His promise. For the past 37 years, World Compassion has worked specifically in nations that are hostile toward the Gospel. Many who are touched in these nations with the message of hope lack the knowledge of the forgiveness of sin through the finished work of Jesus Christ. The four primary areas of focus for World Compassion are Church Planting, Training and Discipleship, Literature, and Humanitarian Outreach.

Terry has authored a number of insightful books, including, The Power of Praise and Worship; The Truth About Angels; The Fight of Every Believer; How to Enter the Presence of God; Praise Releases Faith; and Come Before Winter. (See article on Page 45)

General Georges Sada

General Georges Sada was born into a Christian family in northern Iraq and became a born-again believer in 1986. He graduated from the Iraq Air Academy and was further trained by elite forces in Britain, Russia and the U.S. An ace fighter pilot, Georges became air vice marshal in Saddam Hussein's military. He had great favor with the Iraqi dictator and was one of few to ever publicly confront Saddam and live to tell about it.

Now retired, Georges is executive secretary of the Iraqi Institute for Peace. In addition, he has served as spokesman for the first prime minister of the new Iraq and also has acted as lead consultant for the reconstruction of the Iraqi military.

Georges has served as president of the National Presbyterian Church in Baghdad and as chairman of the Assembly of Iraqi Evangelical Presbyterian churches.

Georges Sada has authored the book, Saddam's Secrets, which exposes Iraq's weapons programs and Saddam's murderous reign. (Read the Prologue from his book on Page 7)
